GREENVILLE TOMORROW BY CHRIS WIDNEY

March 22 & 23, 3:00pm

Greenville Tomorrow by Chris Widney

Directed by Beth Ryan Troxell

Todd and Marion, thirty-something African-American professional dancers, move from their tiny apartment in Brooklyn to a beautiful first home in lovely Greenville, South Carolina. As they settle in, however, hidden agendas emerge including a boss who'd like Todd to be the first "person of color" to participate in "some nice, friendly Civil War reenactments." Mortified by the implications but still wildly in love with their new home, Todd and Marion must examine their own relationship and how far they are willing to go to live the American dream.

March 29 & 30, 3:00pm

Un Hombre: A Golem Story by Stephen Kaplan

Directed by Sydnie Grosberg Ronga

Rebecca Wolfson, a sculptor, is struggling to get back on track after the untimely death of her husband. She is suffering from intense artist's block, and her son is withdrawn, failing Spanish, and unprepared for his upcoming Bar Mitzvah. All seems hopeless until a lot of wine and a little magic transform a hunk of clay into the answer to all of their problems. But when her creation begins questioning his own purpose and existence, both mother and son are forced to confront their grief and grow in ways they never expected.
